'Life in all its Fullness': Believing ~ Being Our Best ~ Being Creative ~ Belonging

Celebrating Book Week!!

This week, our school has been buzzing with excitement as we celebrate Book Week and our love of reading! The children have enjoyed a variety of activities, from older students reading to younger ones, to sharing books in the sunshine at lunchtime. A highlight of the week was the visit from author Jamie Crawford, who captivated the younger children with his enchanting tale of a magical box and taught them how to craft a spooky ghost story. Octopus Class was enthralled by a story about a hunter and a sparrow, accompanied by the mystical sound of a singing bowl. The older children were drawn into the legend of the Selkies, sparking a thoughtful discussion about the art of storytelling and the importance of making a story their own. Jamie ended his visit with a thrilling ghost story that had everyone on the edge of their seats! Jack in Year 6 said he loved the ghost story and hopes Jamie can visit his secondary school one day to share more. We can't wait for our 'Wonderful Words Day' tomorrow to continue the celebration of words, books and storytelling!

Mrs Vessey

Yesterday Marlin Class had the pleasure of going to Cambridge Botanical Gardens to get hands on with our topic for this term, Chocolate! We were lucky enough to have a lovely guide, who showed us the wonders of the rain-forest, before getting hands on with the process of making chocolate, and even getting to try some too! We discovered how we could spot and buy more sustainably sourced chocolate, and made the most of the sunshine, enjoying all the gardens could offer. It was a lovely trip out and enjoyed by all! Miss Peal

Celebrating 40 Acts of Kindness for Lent!

Yesterday the children watched a Big Live Assembly from the Sanctuary Foundation explaining the meaning of Lent for Christians. They learnt how schools around the country have decided to 'give back' rather than 'give up' in the period leading up to Easter. Each class is participating in the '40 acts of kindness' programme, and each day are going to complete different acts such as 'pay someone a surprise compliment' or 'list 5 things you are thankful for'. The children were very enthusiastic and some wished to have their own chart at home to complete. Children who manage to achieve the challenge will be awarded a certificate at the Easter Service.
