'Life in all its Fullness': Believing ~ Being Our Best ~ Being Creative ~ Belonging

Celebrating British Science Week!

This week, our children have immersed themselves in a fantastic range of activities and experiments as part of British Science Week, embracing this year's theme: Adapt and Change. From our youngest scientists to our oldest, everyone has had a brilliant time exploring the wonders of science!

The younger children investigated how materials change through exciting (and sometimes messy!) experiments with chocolate, ice, toast, and corn-flour. They also explored plant adaptations and took part in the fascinating Amazing Animal Feet activity. Meanwhile, the older children engaged in thought-provoking discussions on 'Smashing Stereotypes' in Science, conducted fizz balloon experiments, and explored the impact of what gets flushed down the toilet (a definite highlight!). They also considered ways to improve biodiversity in our school and how we can creatively reuse plastic waste.

A huge thank you to Mrs George (Science Lead) for organising such a fun and inspiring week – the children have absolutely loved it!

We look forward to welcoming parents and carers to our Celebration Worship tomorrow along with Sea Turtles' Class Assembly.

Please come and join us for a hot drink beforehand at 8.45am before our worship starts at

MarvellousMe

Reminder to sign up!

All staff have been loving sending badges and awarding housepoints on our new MarvellousMe app this week.

So far we have just over half of our families who have signed up, which isn't bad for four days! Please let us know if you are struggling to sign up to the app as we would love to celebrate your child's achievements with you!

Collective Worship— Being Creative

This week our focus has been on 'Being Creative'. The children learnt about the Creation Story and how Christians believe God wants us to be 'caretakers' of his creation. We then discussed about being positive and expressing ourselves creatively, and how this can help us to 'live life to the full'.

The children then embraced their creative sides and painted lots of stones for the gazebo which we are turning into a 'Reflection and Quiet Space'. The Beliefs Council had lots of ideas as to how to make it into a place of relaxation, calm and reflection—watch this space!
